

PRESIDENT'S PEN

We have great news to share!

Some of you may remember a few months ago we hosted a group from Accrediting Bureau of Health Education Schools as part of our application for re-accreditation. As a result, ATA was granted a six-year renewal of our accreditation. See the full story for details about what this means for you.

We're focusing on your health in this issue of Career Courier. It only makes sense that as you prepare to be healthcare professionals, you take a moment to evaluate your personal health and make some improvements if needed. Not only do we want to equip you with the skills and qualifications you need to succeed, we also want to be a resource for embracing healthy living - both professionally and personally.

Have a great session,
Don Jones, ATA President

NEWS SPOTLIGHT

ATA Granted Re-Accreditation

Visiting agency impressed with ATA's students and facilities

We are pleased to announce that the Accrediting Bureau of Health Education Schools (ABHES) has renewed ATA's accreditation for an additional six years.

In August, ATA hosted a team from ABHES who interviewed students, staff and faculty as part of the re-accreditation application process.

According to Cindy Landry, Director of Academic Affairs and Compliance, the application process was extremely rigorous. Not only did the ABHES team interview each student at ATA the week they were here, but each department was evaluated to determine whether the programs met the accreditation standards.

You'll be happy to know, ATA consistently met standards in each department, across the board. "Six-year accreditation is a huge vote of confidence for ATA," says Landry. "The ABHES team also stated that student surveys indicated that our students really love what we're doing."

ABHES accreditation is very important to our college. As the healthcare industry prepares for unprecedented job growth in the upcoming years, the need for well-trained, credentialed employees grows.

For ATA students, ABHES accreditation enables them to sit for a number of credentialing examinations after graduation, which greatly enhances marketability in the work force. ABHES is the only agency recognized by the US Department of Education as an institutional and specialized accreditor focusing on healthcare education and training.

The healthcare industry is preparing for an estimated 4 million new jobs between now and 2012 due to the increase in aging population and longer life expectancies.

You are in the right place to learn the skills you need to become a healthcare professional. And there is no better time than right now to prepare to enter the field.

HEALTHY LIVING STARTS WITH YOU

As future healthcare professionals, your health should come first.

Are there areas in your life that need to be improved? Would you consider yourself a good example for future patients you'll come in contact with?

Before you enter the workforce, improving your personal health, both physically and mentally, needs to be at the top of your to-do list. No matter where you are on the healthy lifestyle spectrum, we want to encourage you to take the time now to evaluate improvements you can make.

Theresa Schmidt, ATA's Director of Corporate Training and our very own fitness guru, firmly believes exercise can cure what ails you. Whether stress, high blood pressure, pre-diabetes or your outlook on life, incorporating some form of movement into each day can improve them all.

"I've been a fitness instructor for years and one of the main reasons I keep doing it is because of the life transformations I get to witness," says Schmidt. "Once you grasp that this is a lifestyle change, the results are inspiring."

Let's face it. We're in the business of learning how to help people feel better. A key part of that process is to make sure that we learn how to feel better, too.

So we're serving up our best health & fitness tips. If a lifestyle change is what you need, don't feel like you have to change everything all at once. Baby steps is the approach to take to make healthy changes stick - for good.

GREAT WAYS TO IMPROVE YOUR DAY:

- Start with breakfast (always)
- Move it!
- Snack smart
- Work up a sweat at least once a day
- Don't eat too much of one thing
- Balance is key
- Get fit with family or friends
- Eat more grains, fruits & vegetables
- Make healthy eating and exercise fun
- Get 5-7 servings of fruits & vegetables
- Get 2 servings of dairy
- Drink 8 glasses of water, one before each meal
- Eat lean proteins
- Fix your own food
- Plan ahead
- Get plenty of sleep
- Check with your doctor before starting an exercise routine

DID YOU KNOW?

- Adults need 30 min. of physical activity 5+ days a week.
- 30-60 min of activity broken into 10-15 min bursts throughout the day has significant health benefits.
- Daily physical activity can reduce the risk of heart disease, type 2 diabetes and certain cancers.
- Daily physical activity helps lower blood pressure and cholesterol, prevents or slows osteoporosis, reduces symptoms of anxiety and depression and symptoms of arthritis.

ATA TIPS

Setting Goals

What are your goals for 2009? When considering what you want to accomplish this year, here are a few pointers to organize your thoughts:

1. Make sure the goal you are working toward is something you really want, not just something that sounds good.
2. A goal can't contradict any of your other goals.
3. Develop goals in the 6 areas of life:
 - Family & home
 - Financial & career
 - Spiritual & ethical
 - Physical & health
 - Social & cultural
 - Mental & educational
4. Write your goal in the positive instead of the negative.
5. Be specific and realistic - think your goal through.
6. Set your goals at the right level - not too high, not too low.
7. Write your goal out in detail with measurable outcomes such as dates, amounts, etc.

Healthy New You

Motivation for exercise haters:

- :: Find something you enjoy
- :: Set goals - write them down
- :: Try morning exercise
- :: Schedule your workout
- :: Find a partner
- :: Chart your progress
- :: Reward yourself
- :: Abandon all-or-nothing thinking

Tips for veggie haters:

- :: Add veggies you almost like to dishes you already love
- :: Try them in soup
- :: Eat them raw with light dip
- :: Sneak them into spaghetti or pizza
- :: Drink them
- :: Grill 'em
- :: Sprinkle a bit of cheese
